MapleTA (Online Homework and Practice Test Questions)

To access online homework and practice test questions, log in to MapleTA. Your username is your IUPUI network ID. Your password is the lowercase letter p followed by the last 4 digits of your 10-digit university id number. For example, if your student id is 0000123456 your password is p3456.

NOTE: If your class uses computerized testing, you will use the same username and password when you take your tests. Most students should not change their passwords. Do not change your password if you are likely to forget it. If you do change your password, your instructor will not be able to retrieve it. Make sure that the MapleTA system has your correct e-mail address, so that you can reset your password if necessary. You can check and edit your e-mail address by clicking on "My Profile" after logging in.

After you log in, click on the link to enter your class. Then click on the link for the assignment to open it.

Move through the assignment and answer questions in any order. Click "Next" or "Back" to move through the test. Or use the "Question Menu" to jump to any question.

If pages are slow to load on your dial-up connection from home, you may find that response times improve when you work from computers on-campus and/or if you try to access the practice test during non-peak hours.

Online Homework

Online homework policies are specific to individual classes and instructors. Your instructor will provide details about homework policies for your class.

Sample Online Practice Test Questions

About one week before each testing period begins, you will be able to access an online practice test. Each practice test contains fewer questions than the actual test, but should give you a good idea of the types of questions that you can expect and will allow you to get used to the online testing environment and software. You can take the practice test multiple times; your results are not recorded.

When you have completed the practice test, click on Grade to see your score. After you see your score, you can click on "View Details" to see which questions you got right, which you missed and the correct answers for those you missed. You can also print the details report for your test, by clicking on the "print" link in the upper right corner of the details page.
